

Ensuring regulatory compliance and ethical value chains

“With the IntegrityNext solution, we can ensure that our direct spend suppliers across the globe share our values and meet our expectations in terms of regulatory compliance.”

Małgorzata Dziaduch

VP Procurement – SPL Division

Objective

Compliance with national, regional and international regulations is mandatory for Glamox and its suppliers. The company also recognises, that business ethics go beyond simple compliance and makes a point of achieving sustainability for a better future.

Acknowledging the potential of digital solutions to support its mission, Glamox sought a solution to automate the supplier assessment process and ensure scalability and consistency across all divisions.

How IntegrityNext Helps

Glamox uses the IntegrityNext assessments to continuously monitor its suppliers' compliance with the applicable regulations in terms of environment, human rights & labour, anti-bribery, anti-corruption and more. In the first step, the company monitored its direct spend suppliers on the platform, with the goal to extend this to other purchase categories as well.

IntegrityNext helped Glamox establish a consistent supplier assessment process globally and across all three company divisions.

About Glamox

Industry	Electronics
Annual Revenue	347 m €
Employees	2,300
Geographies	Global

Challenges

- ▶ Ensure supplier's regulatory compliance to create ethical value chains
- ▶ Establish a consistent supplier assessment process globally and across all company divisions

Benefits

Automation

Glamox uses the best available technology to support its mission and establish an automated, standardised process that can easily be extended to further purchase categories and suppliers.

High response rate

Glamox achieved an 85% response rate from the integrated suppliers.

Risk mitigation

New critical suppliers are screened for regulatory compliance and sustainability through the IntegrityNext platform before contracting.

Increased transparency

IntegrityNext supports the company's ultimate ambition of achieving a clear overview of its entire supply chain.