

Aligning procurement processes with corporate sustainability objectives

“As a chemical company we are aware of our responsibility to provide sustainable products. The IntegrityNext solution helps Röhm to source from suppliers which fulfill our CSR standards.”

Hans-Peter Hauck

Chief Operating Officer and responsible for the topic of sustainability in the management of Röhm GmbH

Objective

As part of its sustainability program “Track 2030”, Röhm wants to ensure responsible sourcing practices across all business units worldwide. The leading supplier of methacrylate chemistry recognizes the pre-qualification process as the ideal stage to collect supplier sustainability data and achieve high supplier response rates.

Röhm was looking for a solution to pre-qualify its suppliers according to the five fields of action defined in “Track 2030”: climate, water, resources, harmful substances and chemical safety.

How IntegrityNext Helps

Röhm has defined a standard-set of IntegrityNext self-assessment questionnaires for the onboarding of new suppliers. Only companies that have successfully performed the assessments on the IntegrityNext platform are then considered as pre-qualified for supply.

This enables Röhm to align its purchasing process globally (EU/Asia/America) to the defined sustainability objectives in “Track 2030”.

About Röhm
